Product Projects

Life Tracker — github.com/cmills-dev/life-tracker-kit
Designer and builder of a personal AI agent system — September 2026 – present
- Built scheduled AI agents that run email and research, now used by a beta group of 10 selected users. Set model-routing rules from analysis of 519 runs by task type and model.
- Perpetual Memory: a source-backed knowledge base every agent draws on: each claim quotes its source line, file and commit.
- Chief of Staff: a nightly agent that plans ahead, does reversible work with a logged undo, and turns the rest into one-tap approvals.
- Threadhaven (open source): checked task handovers, so Codex and Claude Code can each resume the other's work.
- Acted on beta feedback: ran refactoring rounds to simplify the codebase, and widened Chief of Staff's predictions to cover more tasks.

Tearline — github.com/cmills-dev/tearline
Product lead and builder of an AI origination platform (open source) — 2026
- For PE, credit and restructuring desks: a company name or deal tip goes in, and a cited tear sheet, capital structure and model come out in minutes. A second engine ranks companies against a fund's mandate.
- Chose public-register data with page-level citations over bring-your-own-credentials, trading data breadth for legal safety. Restricted prose to cited facts so it cannot originate numbers. Validated with 1,362 passing tests and a gold set of 10 real UK filings, abstaining wherever printed figures do not reconcile.

Camillo Labs — camilloadvisory.com
Co-founder — October 2026 – present
- Advise organisations on putting AI to work: deliver talks on AI implementation and have signed our first client.
- Building websites that adapt each page at the point of click, aiming to increase sales conversion.
